Seminar on Wednesday, January 4:

GET READY TO RENAISSANCE

Learn about Grants and Resources for your Community

[LIBERTY] – Communities, organizations and volunteers thinking of participating in a Sullivan Renaissance project are invited to attend a free seminar on Wednesday, January 4 at 6:00 p.m. at the CVI Center in Liberty to learn about the 2017 Sullivan Renaissance grant opportunities.

Attendees will learn about grant requirements and resources and become familiar with the application process. Renaissance staff will be on hand to meet individually about project ideas and program areas. Young people between the ages of 16 and 20 are invited to attend to network with community group organizers about potential summer employment.

New 2017 Sullivan Renaissance initiatives include Multicultural Outreach grants, which are designed to assist organizations with their marketing efforts to reach non-English speaking populations including translation services. Grants are also available to churches and community groups located in multicultural neighborhoods for projects related to beautification, blight eradication, public safety and youth engagement. Property enhancement grants will offer resources to camps and bungalow colonies that are interested in improving the appearance of their property.

To register for the seminar or for more information, visit www.sullivanrenaissance.org or call 845-295-2445. Sullivan Renaissance is a beautification and community development program principally funded by The Gerry Foundation.
